

This guide covers how to create a letterhead macro in Microsoft Word 2011 for Mac.

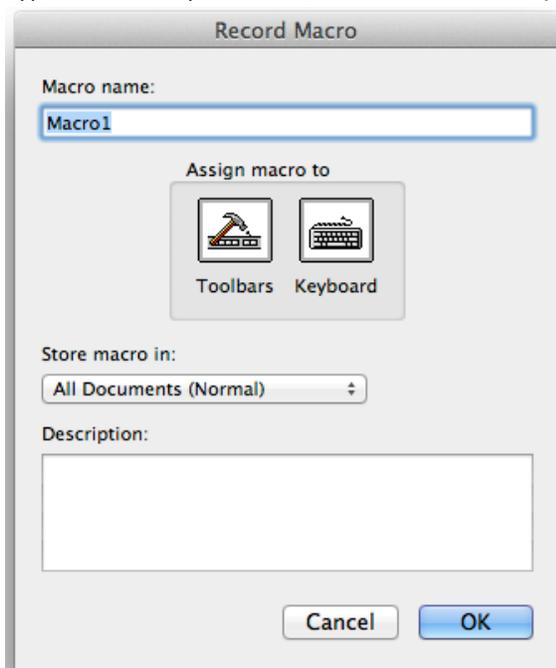

ABOUT MACROS

Macros automate common tasks. A macro can be created for virtually any task that you perform in Word. The amount of steps is irrelevant. You can even create a macro that automatically places certain text in a document with as many attributes as you'd like!

Macros are created with a recording device similar to a common tape recorder. Once you start recording your macro, a toolbar pops up with standard stop and pause buttons. The following is an example of how to create a macro for your customized letterhead paper.

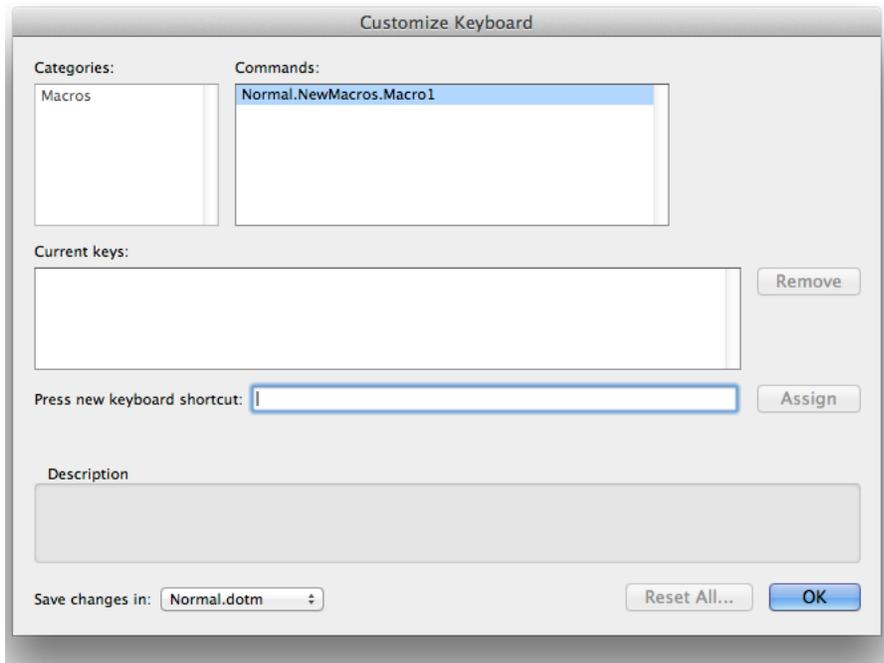

CREATING THE LETTERHEAD MACRO

1. Open a blank document. You want to assign your macro to all documents.
2. From the Tools menu, choose Macro and Record New Macro. The Record Macro dialog box is displayed as shown below.
3. Type a name for your macro, such as Letterhead. (Spaces are not allowed use an underscore to indicate spacing).

4. Under Store macro in: make sure that All Documents (Normal) is selected.
5. Add a Description if you would like, this is helpful if you are creating a lot of macros and need to keep everything organized.

- To assign the macro to a keyboard shortcut click on Keyboard. This provides quick access to your macro.

- The Customize Keyboard dialog box appears as shown above.
 - Assign a key combination. For this macro, since we're creating a letterhead, we'll use Control-L. On your keyboard, press the Control key and the letter L at the same time. The combination is automatically placed in the Current Keys field.
 - Click Assign
- Click OK.

RECORDING THE MACRO

After you choose Close, the recording of the macro immediately begins. To Stop Recording, you will need to click on Tools and then Macro again and click Stop Recording.

When you record your macro make sure that the following is included in your letterhead.
