*1071	CADR 405-701	SPECIAL TOPICS Subtitle: Gender, Sexuality, Human Right NOTE: This course explores gender as a concept that shapes social and interactional perceptions. In this sense, gender functions as a prism through which people see others and are in turn seen by them. It proceeds on the theory that gender is socially constructed, and that social constructions of gender have served as justification for cultural, economic, political, psychological, and social violence. These constructions have also been used to delineate accepted rules of responsibility for violence and abuse, and to support and justify claims to unequal power and privilege. Several gender-based assumptions have served to create gender dichotomies when it comes to such subjects as war and peace, heroism, patriotism, innocence and vulnerability	4	LEC	TBA	TBA		ONLINE	OZOKE
