

Enrolling in IDIS 205: The Future of Food - Spring 2023

Use the following directions to create a SUCCEED account and enroll in the online site for IDIS 205: The Future of Food:

1. Use a web browser and go to <https://succeed.salisbury.edu/browse/fulton/courses/spring-2023-idis-205-151-future-of-food>
2. Select Enroll.

The screenshot shows the SUCCEED website interface. At the top, there is a dark red navigation bar with the 'SUCCEED' logo on the left and 'Salisbury UNIVERSITY' logo on the right. Below the navigation bar, there is a white search bar containing the text 'Charles R. and Martha N. Fulton School of Liberal Arts'. The main content area features a large graphic on the left with the text 'IDIS 205 - Changing Climate/ Changing World' and 'The Future of Food'. To the right of the graphic, the course title 'IDIS 205-151: the Future of Food - Spring 2023' is displayed, along with the dates 'Jan 23, 2023 - Jun 7, 2023'. A blue 'Enroll Now' button is visible, with a small shopping cart icon to its right. An orange arrow points upwards towards the 'Enroll Now' button.

IDIS 205 - 151 one credit, pass/fail

Changing Climate/Changing World: The Future of Food

Meets Mondays 7-8:30 p.m. Led by Professor Michael Lewis from SU's Department of Environmental Studies. This class has a different guest lecturer each week, with each lecture this spring offering a different perspective on how we might think about the future of agriculture and food, given our changing climate and changing world. This is an interdisciplinary course - we will hear from professors from across the campus, from philosophy to sociology, and beyond! This intellectual feast is for students interested in any major (in fact, it's a good way to be introduced to faculty from several majors at SU), and lectures are open to the public. The course is pass/fail and encourages academic exploration.

For registered students, the course is pass/fail to encourage academic exploration. Lectures also are free and open to the public.
