

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Sea Gulls,

I am so grateful to you all for welcoming me as your new President of Salisbury University. As I am quickly learning, SU is a friendly and inviting community. I am so appreciative of the warmth and support I have received in my short time here.

It is a pleasure for me to be able to share with you the 2021-2022 Annual Report for Salisbury University and to celebrate SU's many great achievements during that time. SU is a special place, and what this University has accomplished over the last year is a terrific testament to the success and spirit of those on this campus. I am eager to continue this work and build on our reputation as a student-centered, regional, comprehensive institution.

This annual report is reflective of the significant impact our campus community made on the lives of many individuals, groups and organizations. The inspiring stories of success throughout this report highlight the impressive accomplishments of our students, faculty, staff and alumni.

I have been incredibly proud to learn about the many ways our students, faculty and staff have lived the core values of Salisbury University throughout the past year. This fall, we welcomed our second largest class and most racially diverse class ever, which has filled me with great hope and anticipation for sharing news of their successes and triumphs in next year's annual report.

There is much to be grateful for – and much to look forward to as well. I am deeply appreciative to all who propel this remarkable University forward and know SU will continue to lead, serve and thrive in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Dr. Carolyn R. Lepre
President, Salisbury University
