

Intake & New Member Education Policy

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure our community's commitment to supporting safe, values-based education and intake programs throughout all our recognized fraternities and sororities.

Guiding Principles

Fraternity & Sorority Life at Salisbury University seeks to empower all our recognized fraternities and sororities to uphold their guiding principles. Our belief is that every new member education and intake program should strengthen a new member's academic excellence, civic engagement, individual respect & responsibility, and leadership development.

- A. Academic Excellence – new member education and intake programs should positively impact the academic performance of the new members during the semester of their intake, as well as equip them with the skills and access to resources to achieve scholastic and professional success
- B. Civic Engagement – new members should develop the skill and personal initiative to become involved in the campus and local community, and to eventually leave the community a better place than when they found it
- C. Individual Respect & Responsibility – new members should be educated on their responsibility to their brothers/sisters, to their organizations, to the FSL community, and to the SU community. Further, they should understand their right to be respected by those same stakeholders, most of all, during their new member education and intake program
- D. Leadership Development – new members should not only gain a better understanding of their strengths and skills, but on how they can adequately apply those to better the organizations they are a part of, and themselves
